ABSTRACT

This bibliography presents material relating to the development and implementation of instructional programs for special needs students. It addresses a number of instructional concerns such as program design, student behavior, evaluation, individualizing instruction, and job placement. Material cuts across the various categories of disadvantaged and handicapped and is divided into the following sections: (1) books relating to the special needs students; (2) journal articles relating to the teaching of special needs students; (3) publications from agencies and organizations serving special needs students; (4) agencies and organizations serving special needs students; and (5) relevant abstracts, indexes, and journals. PREFACE

This bibliography of selected resource material focuses on special needs students. It is intended for use by vocational teachers and teacher educators. Included is information relating to the development and implementation of instructional programs for special needs students. In selecting resources, an attempt was made to develop a balanced list. Thus, the material cuts across the various categories of disadvantaged and handicapped. There was also an attempt to address a number of instructional concerns, such as program design, student behavior, evaluation, individualizing instruction and job placement, among others.

In order to facilitate the use of the bibliography, the material was divided into the following categories:

Books Relating to the Teaching of Special Needs Students..... 1

Journal Articles Relating to the Teaching of Special Needs Students..... 8

Publications from Agencies and Organizations Serving Special Needs Students..... 12

Agencies and Organizations Serving Special Needs Students..... 23

Relevant Abstracts, Indexes and Journals..... 30

A number of individuals contributed to the development of this bibliography. Thanks are extended to Ms. Charlotte Conaway, Specialist for Special Programs, Maryland State Department of Education, Division of Vocational and Technical Education and Dr. John O'Brian, Special Needs Educator, Maryland Professional, Personnel and Youth/Adult Vocational Leadership Development Center. I would also like to thank Sarah Kryszak, Elena Severino, Jonathan Miasnik and Marcia Smith. Their assistance is appreciated. Finally, thanks are extended to Miss Carolyn Dornsife and Mrs. Bonnie Dunn for assistance in typing the manuscript.
